

Learning and Violence

www.learningandviolence.net

Help make this site more inclusive!

Tell us stories about:

- ❑ the impact of violence on learning;
- ❑ what helped learning or teaching in the face of violence; and
- ❑ self-care approaches that work for students and teachers.

Share creative ways - such as visuals, pictures, cartoons, music, sound bites, videos, and curricula - that expresses how violence is experienced by different communities, how it affects learning, and how to support learning in the aftermath of violence.

Talk to others you know who have stories to tell or who have created multi-media work and send them this request.

Tell us about other relevant internet sites we should link to.

Include, on your organization's website a link to this site.

Contact jenny@learningandviolence.net or 416-533-8502 to talk about getting you and/or your organization involved to make this site more inclusive.